HOW Does Online Therapy Work?

Using a computer, headset, webcam, and high-speed internet, your schools are ready for online therapy with TinyEYE.

As with traditional onsite therapy, online therapy enables students to visit a therapy room and meet with the same therapist each week. Through online therapy sessions, TinyEYE therapists deliver learning experiences that are highly engaging and proven to drive student success. Therapists create a unique and modern learning environment using online tools that are both exciting and different from students' regular day-to-day activities. Today's generation of students was born in the electronic era - technology is their comfort zone! With that in mind, it is no surprise that students and therapists agree that the technology behind online therapy becomes invisible, allowing the development of personal connections that transcend borders and time zones. THIS is the magic of online therapy!

Increase in direct therapy time

A recent ASHA school survey revealed a typical, school-based therapist spends only 68% of their time providing direct therapy to students. Their remaining time is spent writing reports, developing therapy plans and, of course, travelling! Not only has TinyEYE eliminated travel time, but most of the planning and reporting have been automated, allowing therapists to spend up to 85% of billable hours delivering direct therapy. In addition to direct therapy, TinyEYE therapists also provide:

- A detailed, customized report within hours of the session, outlining the progress made.
- Support and attendance of IEP and parent-teacher meetings, via remote connection.
- Online backpack activities encouraging students to practice their skills between sessions.

These are the extras that result in positive gains and empower students to reach their ultimate goal: graduating from their therapy program with the skills to thrive in their daily lives.

TinyEYE has the experienced therapist you have been waiting for.

TinyEYE's custom online platform connects you with Speech-Language Pathologists, Occupational Therapists, and Mental Health Providers licensed in your state or province. TinyEYE employs qualified, experienced online therapists who are ideally suited to your program's needs and provide the assurance of consistent, high-quality therapy sessions.

TinyEYE is proud to offer a vast team of therapists who offer specialized skills to match your student needs, such as providing full bilingual coverage that includes assessments, direct therapy, and reporting in Spanish, French, Creole, and Dutch.

Therapy Services

1 Initial Meeting

A TinyEYE representative will meet with your Special Education Team to discuss your speech and language goals, as well as any special requirements your school may have. The goal of this meeting is to create a plan that supports the overall therapy goals of both the school and the student.

2 Service Agreement

A signed TinyEYE service agreement is required before therapy can begin. This helps to provide stability for your therapist so that she can be dedicated to your schools. Monthly invoices are issued for the actual time applied and are broken down to the minute.

3 Student Planning

TinyEYE works with your staff to determine the number of students requiring assessments and direct therapy. Student information will be used to develop individual therapy plans, including a schedule that is uniquely designed to meet the individual needs of each student.

4 Consent for Therapy

TinyEYE works within your policies to ensure appropriate measures are followed regarding consent for the sharing of confidential information. Prior to receiving therapy, each student is sent a consent form that must be signed by a parent or guardian and returned to TinyEYE.

5 Technical Check

TinyEYE completes a 'tech check' with your school's support staff to confirm all technical components are in place; also confirming school staff are comfortable logging into sessions and accessing reporting tools.

TESTIMONIALS

"I value the immediate reports at the end of the day that can be shared with parents. It is a concrete and easy way to track the child's progress. The progress reports for report cards are very helpful to the teachers as well."

- Gail S., Paraprofessional
Pembina Hills Regional Division No. 7

"Our therapist is great at setting up programs to meet the needs of each of our children. We love working with her."

- Tara M., Special Education Director,
St. Ann's Catholic School

"[Our TinyEYE therapist] feels like one of my teammates here at Chancery. We've never met, but her presence is felt here. She is definitely part of what makes Chancery work for some of our students. We're in constant communication in regards to their needs. She goes out of her way to help them out. I've seen some students that resented therapy in the past make a complete change in opinion solely based on how she has worked with them."

- Ruban V., Special Education Director,
Chancery High School

"From our school's perspective, the opportunity that TinyEYE provides is invaluable. We could not do in 15 minutes what your services do - it would take longer, as well as take up yet another staff member's time. The sessions are not only efficient, but very effective. Progress is tracked throughout the year, not only right after sessions. A report is sent out for parents at report card time, too. We see such growth! To your credit, it's commendable! I have nothing but good to say about these sessions!"

- Louis, Special Education Director,
North Eastern School District

"I like the clarity of billing. Other online providers we've used have unclear billing/charges. [In addition], TinyEYE staff have been very patient with our diverse program. We have several learning centers with many teachers to contact."

- Valerie W., Special Education Director,
Northern United Charter Schools
