Benefits of Body Signage

The Evolve® Series

The Evolve® Series combines style and functionality to create customizable waste and recycling stations that complement a variety of spaces. With multiple options for colors, lids, and graphics, Evolve makes it easy to create a collection station that meets your program's needs.

Adding body signage takes waste stream identification a step further by providing clear, visible messaging directly on the unit. Easy-to-understand graphics and sorting instructions help users quickly identify where materials belong, reducing confusion and encouraging proper disposal. By making waste sorting more intuitive, body signage can help reduce contamination and improve participation in your waste diversion program.
