Centralized Stations

Aristata® Series

Premium waste stations do more than collect waste, they help create a better recycling experience. With thoughtful placement, clear sorting options, and a cohesive design, centralized stations can encourage participation and help reduce sorting confusion.

The Aristata® Series brings style and functionality together, with customizable signframes and clear, easy-to-understand labels that help users quickly identify the correct waste stream. By improving visibility and simplifying sorting, these features make recycling more intuitive while maintaining a polished, professional appearance.

It's a smarter way to support your sustainability goals without compromising your space's aesthetic.
